o Oliver Newman comes from the re-publican party. As a lifelong democration and president of the Jefferson Democratic and president of the Jenerson Democratic Association, I deny this. Every democrat who has the welfare of this District at heart and who is in favor of home rule is opposed to Oliver Newman, and will do all he can to oppose his retention of office. As democrats, we thoroughly understand the attitude of the White House toward the District democracy. Mr. Wilson was the forestifen our action in head derstand the attitude of the White House toward the District democracy. Mr. Wilson has not forgotten our action in behalf of a man who would truly have been a President had he been nominated, and he is now getting even with us. This, however, does not worry us. All we demand and expect is justice and the carrying out of the law as it is upon the statute books relating to the appointment of District Commissioners.

A "joker" discovered in the language of the District appropriation bil would have held up temporarily the $12,000,000 for the support of the Dis-trict for the coming year had it not been for the team work of Representaresentative Sisson, the democratic framed the bill. The effect of the oker would have been to relieve the street railway companies of the Dis-trict from the expense of paving the trict from the expense of paving the streets between their car tracks.

Representative Sisson slipped in an amendment to the general deficiency bill late yesterday afternoon which will correct the evil provided it is passed by the Senate. It is understood that Representative Page conferred with the President, and the signing of the District of Columbia appropriation bill might have been indefinitely delayed had the President not had the assurance of Representative Page that there was every probability that Representative Sisson's amendment would be passed.

Pending adjustment of the tangle concerning the street paving provision, the President signed a continuing resolution making available one-twenty-fourth of last year's appropriation for meeting the operating expenses of the District during the remainder of July.

This amount will be sufficient to keep all the departments in operation at least a portion of the time, while it is believed to be extremely probable that the appropriation bill will be signed before any service is affected by lack of funds.

The playgrounds department would the first to suffer in the event there is any considerable delay. Under the conkeep its full teaching force at work for four continuous days, but after that time a substantial reduction in the force would be required.

The bathing beach will be able to operate several days on the appropriation provided by the continuing resolution, and has at its disposal a fund made up by private contributions which would keep it going a longer period if necessary. As the situation stands the local government, it is believed, will not be seriously affected by today's developments, provided the regular appropriation bill becomes a law within four or five days.

Judiciarry committee continued work on the trust bills.

A Statement will be signed in the report of the interstate commerce commission is also expected today. It is expected that the statement will be signed by James H. Hustis, president of the New Haven, who will probably preside at the meeting in the absence of Chairman Howard Eliott, now on vacation.

Prior to the meeting of the New Haven directors, which was set for 1:30 o'clock, reports as to the anticipated resignation of William Rockefeller from the board were dispelled by announcement from Mr. Rockefeller that he intended not only to take part in today's meeting, but would continue to serve as a director. The effect of the announcement was to discredit a similar report that John L. Billard was also on the point of tendering his resignation.

No Change of Views Evident,

No Change of Views Evident.

Up to the time of the meeting, which was expected to be a long one, there were no indications that the directors were no indications that the directors would change their stand of a week ago, when they asserted their willingness to fight dissolution rather than submit to the terms prescribed by the Massachusetts legislature for the disposition of the New Haven's Boston and Maine stock.

The question of a decided reduction in the number of directors was among those to be discussed today. A recommendation to this effect was proposed by Lewis Cass Ledyard when he appeared before the interstate commerce commission.
